Short bio

Hi! I am Doniyor. I was born in Samarkand city, Uzbekistan in December 25th, 1998. As a teen I have tried different kind of jobs, including woodwork, professional music and video content creation and programming. The latter was the best, so I have chosen it as my future profession. Currently, I am full time junior student at INHA University in Tashkent, where I am studying software engineering. Taking into the consideration mobile phones widespread I decided to become mobile software developer with Flutter framework.

Personal statement

As a software developer I think the way you implement your solutions inside your apps defines your professionalism. Also, it is crucial to use your imagination to test your soft properly by considering every use cases and crazy user inputs
